

Please keep in mind that most of the captains' homes are private residences and not open to the public.

- 1 Captain Henry C. Leidheiser House, 566 Main Street, built 1890. Vernacular style.
- 2 Captain Fred S. Lawless House, 5604 Ferry Street, built 1902. Vernacular style.
- 3 Captain Charles A. Mattison House, 538 Main Street, built 1920. Craftsman style.
- 4 Captain Miles Thompson House, 485 Main Street, built 1830. Remodeled Greek Revival style.
- 5 Captain J.C. Gilchrist House, also known as Lakeside Inn, presently a Bed & Breakfast, 5662 Huron Street, built 1885. Italianate style.
- 6 Captain James F. Nolan House, 472 Washington Street, built 1911. Vernacular style.
- 7 Captain Alva Bradley House, 5679 Huron Street, built 1848. The captain was a good friend of Thomas Alva Edison. Greek Revival style.
- 8 Captain Charles Horton House, 5664 Ferry Street, built 1874. Gothic Revival style.
- 9 Captain George A. Bell Second House, 5790 Huron Street, built circa 1900. Vernacular style.
- 10 Captain Frank B. Parsons House, 5831 Huron Street, built circa 1915. Remodeled Vernacular style.
- 11 Captain Clifford H. Parsons House, 608 Decatur Street, built 1929. Vernacular style.
- 12 Captain Edwin R. Pelton House, 631 Decatur Street, built 1901. Queen Anne Style.
- 13 Captain Lewis Stone House, 5803 Liberty Avenue, built 1896. Vernacular style.
- 14 Captain Frederick Rae, 690 Decatur Street, built circa 1870. Italianate style.
- 15 Captain Frederick Bailey House, 5775 Liberty Avenue, built 1911. Vernacular style.
- 16 Captain George A. Bell House, 5760 Liberty Avenue, built 1876, presently a Bed & Breakfast. Italianate style.
- 17 Captain William Young House, 5815 Ohio Street, built 1848, presently a Bed & Breakfast. Transitional Greek Revival style.
- 18 Captain Alva Bradley Second House, 751 Decatur Street, built circa 1870. Remodeled Stick style.
- 19 Captain Albert Meyer House, 756 Perry Street, built circa 1853. Captain Meyer was the master of the ill-fated "Western Reserve" which sank taking the lives of many Vermilion families. Italianate style.
- 20 Captain Leeds Weeks House, 5676 Ohio Street, built circa 1880. Queen Anne style.
- 21 Captain Peter G. Minch, 743 Grand Street, built 1857. Captain Minch was the owner of the ill-fated ship "Western Reserve". Late Greek Revival with Italianate influence style.
- 22 Captain W.H. Gilchrist Sr. House, 5583 Ohio Street, built 1875. One of Vermilion's few older brick buildings. Italianate style.
- 23 Captain William H. Moody, 792 Exchange Street, built 1903. Vernacular with Queen Anne influence style.
- 24 Captain Henry Walper House, 5475 South Street, built 1899. Queen Anne style.
- 25 Captain Charles Gegenheimer House, 910 Exchange Street, built circa 1898. Vernacular style.
- 26 Captain Frederick Hasenflue House, 5332 South Street, built 1907. Vernacular style.
- 27 Captain Peter Full House, 5118 South Street, built 1903. Remodeled Vernacular style.
- 28 Captain Cornelius Young House, 5231 South Street, built circa 1880. Vernacular style.